Cal State Fullerton

Parent and Child Emotion Study

Do you:

• Want to help researchers understand how children learn to manage their emotions and how the family can help?
• Have a child between 4 and 8 years old who was exposed to alcohol during pregnancy?

Researchers in the Department of Child and Adolescent Studies at Cal State Fullerton are conducting a study examining how children with different developmental backgrounds learn to manage their emotions, and the role of the family in this process.

Participation includes a mother-child research visit and answering some questionnaires. Families are compensated $45 for their time.

Contact Dr. Jason Baker: 657-278-7966 or jbaker@fullerton.edu

Principal Investigators of the study are Dr. Baker and Dr. Rachel Fenning