Agency Descriptions

CPLA is a 501C3 non-profit organization founded in 2012 to provide at-risk students in underserved communities of Los Angeles with high quality, school-based mental health support services, provided by exceptional clinician "counselors" who build relationships with and work collaboratively in partnership with student clients, parents and school administrators. The foundation of CPLA's work is individual mental health counseling services for elementary and high school students and thier families. CPLA counselors provide free mental health services and crisis support, open to all students with parental consent. CPLA's service philosophy is to support students at school and includes working with family members and the school community to have the greatest impact. CPLA's highly committed and compassionate volunteer counselors deliver on-site services during the school day, throughout the school year. Each elementary school receives 4 days of service, provided by 2 counselors on alternate days. Each high school receives 5 days of service, provided by 2 or 3 counselors. Counselors are matched to one school site. They quickly become an important and trusted partner in the school community. CPLA counselors provide true mental health services students need and, for the majority, cannot access outside of school. CPLA counselors work with students facing serious stressors and mental health challenges. Almost every day CPLA supports students who are expressing suicidal thoughts and students who report situations that require consultation about possible physical or sexual abuse. In doing so, they support faculty and administrators as well as families to meet the needs of these students in crisis. Our ability to collaborate with and support administrators is extremely valuable at our partner schools. Students are referred when teachers and parents are concerned about a student's emotional well-being, behavior, attitude and/or motivation. Students are also encouraged to self-refer. Counselors provide one-on-one counseling to support students experiencing difficulties, some of which may include Depression, Anxiety, Low Social Skills, Anger Management Difficulties, Attention Difficulties, Difficulty Adjusting to School/Classroom, Impulsive Behaviors, Trauma Recovery, Grief & Loss, Parental Divorce, Blended Family Issues, and Peer Relationships. In individual counseling sessions CPLA counselors support students mental health needs in many ways, including: Improving communication and coping skills, strengthening students' sense of self, self-esteem and self-efficacy, promoting positive behavior changes, identifying goals and effective paths to achieve them, helping parents to support their children's needs, emotionally process and grieve loss and painful family changes. The CPLA counselors are a source of support for the entire school community. They promote student success in the classroom by focusing on the critical connection between a student's mental health and their ability to effectively take advantage of opportunities to learn. They create partnerships with students, parents, and teachers to help students achieve their goals. They work with parents to improve communication and provide interventions and guidance. Counselors empower students to become their own advocates. CPLA believes that consistent oversight and strong supervision of counselors are critical components in achieving success for students served and to best support the training and growth of our counselors. Message to Applicants: We wish you the best in pursuing your goals and completing your education. If you join the CPLA team, we promise that we will be as committed to your success as clinicians every day as much as we are for the students you will serve. We believe we offer an excellent training experience, we also realize that there are many opportunities with other great agencies and organizations, so we thank you for considering CPLA. - The CPLA Team.

Maple Counseling is a non-profit community clinic whose mission is to provide low-cost mental health services to individuals of all ages, couples, and families throughout Los Angeles County, and to provide clinical training for graduate and postgraduate students. Maple Counseling aspires to be the premier training site in Los Angeles for pre-licensed mental health clinicians. The Trainee experience includes excellent supervision and plenty of training. The development of your clinical skills at the center of our focus. A variety of clients to challenge you and further your growth as a therapist. A strong sense of community with your colleagues and the prospect of joining our impressive Alumni network when you finish your internship. The Adult Program: Interns in the Adult Program treat a caseload of individuals age 18 and older. Our adult clients present a broad range of diagnoses and problems. Supervision groups focus on developing your clinical skills, formulating case conceptualization, and building your ability to form effective therapeutic relationships with clients. Diagnostic assessment skills are emphasized as part of the Intake and Assessment Track. The ACT Program (Adolescent and Child Therapy): This training program is focused on the treatment of children and adolescents age 12 and up. Interns see adolescents at Beverly Hills High School and pre-teens at Beverly Vista Middle School, as well as children and adolescents at the clinic. Parents may be included in the treatment with family sessions or as parent consultation. Training and supervision are structured to address the unique challenges facing therapists who work with children and teens. ACT Interns will provide individual and/or group therapy in each of their assigned schools. Group Therapy Track: The Group Therapy Track involves training and supervised experience in co-leading therapy groups. We have a number of ongoing therapy groups in the areas of general men's and women's issues. There are a limited number of spots in the Group Therapy track and separate application is required.

Agency Descriptions S.A.G.E. Holistic Health & Wellness Center is built upon the belief and evidence that we do best when we integrate various parts of wellbeing into our lives: nutrition, body movement, mental health and spirituality. Our mission is to make holistic education and services accessible and available to the public so that they may experience the fullness of living a whole and balanced life. Our mental health pillar is currently our most utilized resource and our team works integratively with other practitioners at our practice as well as those outside our practice who are part of clients' wellness team. We offer individual therapy for adolescents/teens and adults as well as provide support for couples and families. Our therapists provide a vast array of therapeutic approaches and all of our therapists are highly trained in trauma-informed practices; many of our therapists are trained in EMDR as well. We aim to build community through these efforts and hope to bring other S.A.G.E. Family members on board who are passionate about how the body, mind and spirit all work together for holistic wellness.

WYS- Family Oasis Resource Center is a community-based programs that treats a full range of mental health diagnoses in our JumpStart4Kids (JS4K) program. Practicum students provide services in all programs. JumpStart4Kids (JS4K) – provides school-based counseling and parenting support services to students and their families through the Anaheim Elementary School District (AESD). Services are provided to students and their families from preschool through 6th grade with a wide range of presenting problems. Based upon referral and need, practicum students may be assigned to a particular school site, or travel to different campuses to provide service. We primarily serve those at risk due to lack of insurance, poverty, homelessness, and domestic violence and provide short-term counseling services to community members of all ages who struggle with a variety of mental health issues. Our services can include individual, family, and couples counseling, and range from 10-16 sessions per client. As a community-based program services are often provided outside of the office in homes, schools, clinics and other community settings.

Agency Descriptions

The Western Youth Services- School-Based Mental Health (SBMH) Program offers on-campus counseling services within the Santa Ana Unified School District. Our program is committed to delivering comprehensive mental health care directly in the school setting, working closely with staff to identify and support students who may be facing mental health challenges. This approach ensures that students receive the necessary care to thrive both academically and personally.

The district serves students from K-12, providing practicum students with the opportunity to work across various age groups. Practicum students will be stationed on different campuses, managing a caseload of 8-10 cases, and offering services to students and their families who present a wide range of concerns.

In addition, students will have access to advanced clinical training through our dedicated training department and receive mentorship from experienced clinicians. This experience allows students to learn and practice advanced clinical skills and documentation that will prepare them for real-world employment. We also prefer to hire our successful practicum students, offering a seamless transition into professional roles within our organization.
