IV. Narrative

Write a narrative (3 pages, double-spaced maximum) discussing your insights as to how your scholarly or creative work and/or your implementation of a special program promoted the moral and character development of children and/or adolescents. Please focus on accomplishments during college (either at CSUF or another institution).

Discuss one of the following:

- a. Scholarly or creative work on children's moral education or character development.

This category refers to written or creative projects that address moral and character development; examples of this may include a paper/project submitted as part of a CAS course requirement.

In your narrative, discuss your paper/project goals and their relationship to the moral education or character development of children and/or adolescents. Include a graded copy of your scholarly/creative work with the application packet.

b. Program or curriculum with children and/or adolescents.

This category refers to work/volunteer experience in an educational, community, or religious setting that provides services for children and adolescents. Specifically, this category is concerned with programs and/or curricula that foster moral or character development among children /adolescents. To qualify in this category, you must have a minimum of 6-months work/volunteer experience.

In your narrative, provide a description of the program/curriculum implemented. Discuss the setting of the project and the age group(s) served. Include discussion of the program/curriculum goals and the strategies used to achieve them, as well as the relevance of the program/curriculum to moral or character development.

In your narrative, indicate your work/volunteer responsibilities, length and dates of service, and the name and phone number of a contact person who can verify your service at this location.

Your written narrative is a very important component of your application. When writing your narrative, please:

- use the narrative form on the next page;
- thoughtfully and explicitly address the criteria outlined in the award;
- make sure that all pertinent information is included within the narrative;
- type the narrative in 12pt font and ensure that it is free of spelling, grammatical and structural errors.
