

GRADUATE/TEACHING ASSISTANTSHIPS

GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIPS (Non-Teaching): Assist faculty with various duties such as collecting, organizing and analyzing data, supervising laboratories, developing source materials, searching the literature and compiling bibliographies, developing and operating research equipment, assisting in the conduct of experiments, evaluating student work and examinations and preparing course materials and instructional aides. Assignments may also include student advisement.

STIPEND Approximately $2,500 per semester (payable in 5 monthly installments).
10 HOURS PER WEEK.

TEACHING ASSOCIATES A typical assignment involves teaching 2 or 3, 1 unit sports/fitness classes and assisting faculty 5 hours per week with duties described above for graduate assistants. Applicants must have background experience in a minimum of two activities commonly taught in the physical performance program.

STIPEND Approximately $3800 -5300 per semester dependent on assigned teaching load.

POSITIONS: ONE-SEMESTER APPOINTMENTS TO A MAXIMUM OF FOUR SEMESTERS.
(Under certain circumstances, appointments may extend beyond the four semesters.)

QUALIFICATIONS: Must be fully accepted into the M.S. degree program in Kinesiology at California State University, Fullerton prior to the start of the semester.

A letter of introduction/ resume/teaching interest/experiences and/or graduate assistant request is submitted to the department chair separately from the graduate program application.

Applicants may send the department chair assignment requests pending acceptance.

DEADLINE: June 15, for Fall Semester and November15, for Spring Semester.

APPLICATION: Submit a letter of application and a curriculum vita (resume), indicating past experience relevant to teaching activity courses to:
(may reference course titles of interest -listed on the CSUF website -Titan-On-Line Schedule)

Stephan Walk, PhD
Department Chair,
Kinesiology Department
California State University, Fullerton
P.O. Box 6870
Fullerton, CA 92834-6870
swalk@fullerton.edu

CSUF is an Affirmative Action Equal Opportunity/ADA employer. All personnel policies conform to the requirements of Executive Order 11246, Title IX of the Higher Education Amendment of 1972 and other federal regulations regarding nondiscrimination.